look what we did (253)

With leading agency Cru Digital having joined forces with premier advertising agency Junior, their existing office space was in need of major replanning and a facelift to incorporate the 2 brands and teams into the one space. The 600smq office has been opened into a large shared studio. Both brands colour palettes have been meshed together to create a fresh and dynamic work environment. New tiered bleachers provide a great vantage point to watch the epic table tennis battles and custom light fittings and large scale graphics add to the fun. The iconic 'pop-up book' style park reception has been retained as the entry point into the new workspace.
